

Thank you Patsy – we will miss you!

Sue Smith (known as Patsy to everyone at Martha Trust) is retiring this autumn after more than 5 years working for Martha Trust. We bid Patsy a fond farewell and every happiness during her retirement.

Patsy has been a wonderful member of our nursing team at Frances House, much loved by the young people and staff. Over the last few years she played an instrumental role in the re-design and decoration of the sensory room, and the recent garden makeover.

Patsy has always been very creative in finding activities for the young people to participate in. We have especially fond memories of Patsy play-acting in the role of the fairy godmother in the Frances House panto Cinderella. Everyone agreed that this normally quiet, composed and elegant lady, stole the show by dancing around in hot pink netting and Dr Martin boots – still wearing her glasses on a string!

Autumn 2006

MARTHA NEWS

A ROYAL OPENING FOR MARY HOUSE

Just six months after we welcomed our first residents to Mary House, we were delighted to celebrate the official opening of our new home in Hastings with HRH Countess of Wessex.

Please see inside for the full story of our historic day.

Getting to know Mary House first hand; the Countess meets Suzie.

A wonderful occasion for everyone involved

Charlotte and her family meet the HRH Sophie Countess of Wessex.

During her tour of Mary House, Martha Trust's new purpose-built residential home in Hastings, HRH Sophie Countess of Wessex met and talked to the young residents, their families and care staff. Her Royal Highness also spoke to key supporters of the project and observed the use of specialist sensory therapies in the home.

Countess praises care team

The visit concluded with a short speech by Her Royal Highness who commented, "Congratulations to all of you for having the foresight and tenacity to see the project through. It has been a great pleasure to meet all of you, particularly the dedicated care team". Her Royal Highness continued, "The looks on the families' faces show they trust you to do the important job of looking after their children. It's a truly wonderful place to be and I wish you every success in the future."

Our commemorative gift

The Countess unveiled a plaque to mark the occasion and was presented with a small framed collage created by residents and staff at Mary House. The collage consisted of embroidered hand prints representing each of the young residents involved in the project. The Countess was delighted with the gift, and recognised immediately which hand belonged to which person. The day was a wonderful occasion for the residents, families and staff at Martha Trust, many of whom commented on the special atmosphere on the day.

After the Countess had left, celebrations continued as thanks were offered to supporters of the project. Small framed prints celebrating the contribution made to Mary House were presented.

Martha Trust Chairman, Graham Simmons (second from left), presents plaques to: Mr. Robin Carter of the Development Trust, Mr. Colin Finnerty of Blatchington Court Trust and Mr. Eric Maxwell of the Maxwell Family Trust.

Charlene and nurse Mary, enjoy the new Frances House garden. The final garden (inset) features walkways weaving through a series of pergolas.

VOLUNTEERING AT FRANCES HOUSE, DEAL

WILLING HANDS CREATE A NEW GARDEN

Thanks to the support from Pfizer, Deal Fire Brigade, Deal Community Events Committee and other local fundraising groups, the main section of the Frances House garden is now finished.

Just a few months ago this part of the garden was dominated by large trees which blocked out the light and filled the garden with leaves each autumn; the gardens were also uninteresting and under-utilised.

But thanks to the help of our friends, the gardens have been transformed! There are now interesting wheelchair-accessible pathways, all-weather activity areas surrounded by pergolas and a beautiful water feature with a glass bridge. The beds are also well stocked with plants which will appeal to all five senses. Residents, staff and visitors can now view the surrounding countryside and farmland from both the garden and from the home.

We hope the final section of the garden will be completed by our volunteers during the autumn.

Would you or your company like to participate in a volunteer project or a fundraising event to support Martha Trust? To find out more please contact Mickle Cordes on 01304 615223 or email contact@marthatrust.org.uk

The sky's the limit for Anna and Nouf!

For Martha House residents Anna and Nouf, life literally reached new heights with a visit to the Bournemouth Eye, a tethered hot air balloon (above). This was just one of the many exciting activities during their week's summer holiday to Hobourn Naish in Hampshire. Nurse, David Gwilym said "It was unbelievable with the girls coolly taking the hot air balloon in their stride".

In May, Jacinta, Tony and Dale from Martha House enjoyed a week in Gissing near Diss in Norfolk (below). The weather was hot and dry but the residents and carers kept their cool in the swimming pool attached to the self-catering cottages. Day trips included visits to Norwich, Banham Zoo and the beach.
